Pumped Storage

Pumped storage lifts water to an upper reservoir when power is cheap.

At the evening peak the water runs back down through the turbines.